

AMBER

Who am I

How am I now

What if life

Was just a feeling

Would I waste these days

Waiting for

For time to

Desensitize

Or would I change my ways

Clear way out through this haze

Should I believe that hard work will pay off

And why should I understand

People who go with the amber flow

Trusting it's calm under waves

I am caged door open

Letting system roll, amber stone

I won't dare to go

Swim

While amber's liquid

Breathe

Until there's no heaven left

Live

Your illusions like

There

Was no tomorrow ahead

Right now, no time to think

Uniquity

Serene in the eye of the storm

Lost common core

Things I should adore

Hanging tighter on cycle of life

On the main stream routine

While the lethargy will deepen and lead astray

Swim

While amber's liquid

Breathe

Live

Your illusions like

There

Was no tomorrow ahead

Who am I

Where am I now

What if I was just stargazer in my own dreamland

Swim

While amber's liquid

Breathe

Live

Your illusions like

There

Was no tomorrow ahead
