

PATH WHERE TWO ARE ONE

Stop, in half the way

Stop the dead, stagnate

And mark the time, the day

Stay, alive, stay still

Hold together, stay the way,

The way you are

God they were fighting

To find their way

God they were struggling

To meet the day, the day

And God their words they mean

The world, the 'thus'

Their eyes they meet

The love

They meet the lust

Of us, finding...

Wearing themselves

In blue and red

The colours of the royal kings

Wearing no else

The child is close

The one, the only masterpiece

God they were fighting

To find their way

God they were struggling

To meet the day, the day

And God their words they mean

The world, the 'thus'

Their eyes they meet

The love

They meet the lust

Of us, finding...

Putting their whole souls, whilst

Depending on two

Praising the faith

Learning selfish rules

Given it all, wondering

The heavenly plan

Recepting the judgements

To find The,

Of everlasting

Where two have found

God they were fighting

To find their way
God they were struggling
To meet the day, the day

And God their words they mean

The world, the 'thus'

Their eyes they meet

The love

They meet the lust

Of us

God they now see

The path where two are one

The scriptures mankind

Could never understand
